

FOSTER GUILTY OF MANSLAUGHTER

Vermont Farmer Will Be Sentenced Tomorrow for Killing Prouty.

Brattleboro, Vt., Nov. 11.—A verdict of manslaughter was returned tonight against Lou A. Foster of Brattleboro for shooting his neighbor, Ossie Prouty, on October 16. He will be sentenced Thursday.

It was brought out at the trial which began a week ago, that there had been bad feeling between the two men. On the evening of October 16th they became engaged in a quarrel, during which Prouty struck Foster, Foster then drew a revolver and killed his opponent. He claimed self defense. The state maintained that the killing was not justified.

Foster is 35 years old and unmarried. Prouty was 28 years old and left a wife and three children.

FOUR LEAF CLOVER CLUB

Holds Meeting, Followed by a Pleasing Social Hour.

The Four Leaf Clover Club of the Court Street Christian church held its regular monthly meeting in the vestry of the church on Tuesday evening. Delightful refreshments were served by the hostesses of the occasion: Miss Alberta Hugg, Miss Bertha Dutch and Mrs. Frank McMahon.

GAVE DANCING PARTY

The Maplewood Club conducted a very enjoyable dancing party in Freeman's large hall Tuesday evening with a large attendance. Music was furnished by Mrs. James and Mr. Carter.

SHORES STREWN WITH WRECKAGE

Three Score Dead in Storm Which Swept Great Lakes.--Survivors Bring Stories of Awful Hardships

Chicago, Nov. 11.—The shores of Lakes Superior, Huron and Erie were strewn tonight with the wreckage of a tree days' gale and snow storm, which cost the lives of probably three score persons, turned bottom up in mid-lake a 300 foot vessel with its crew, wrecked or grounded numerous other craft, and caused a property loss as yet unestimated, but which will run into the millions.

The details of the storm which literally swept from the western end of Lake Superior to the eastern shore of Lake Erie, became known only today when survivors began arriving in various ports with tales of hardships and heroic rescues seldom equaled on the lakes.

On land the storm hit hardest at Cleveland, Ohio, where 21 inches of snow fell and five persons were killed. Ten other persons are missing in Cleveland and $2,000,000 damage was caused to property, chiefly telephone and telegraph systems. The city has been out of direct communication for two days. The death toll with many towns unreported is thus told: Twenty-five, perhaps 40 men, probably drowned in the overturning of a freighter found floating in Lake Huron.

Bodies Wash Ashore
Five bodies washed ashore at St. Joseph on the Canadian side, four men, three marked Westford, and one wore a belt marked London.

Three bodies washed ashore on the west side of Lake Huron.

Two bodies washed ashore opposite the position of the overturned boat. Six members of a lightship drowned in Lake Erie near Buffalo, N. Y.

The escapes from death were numerous. After the storm of Friday night had blown away the forward part of his ship, Captain J. W. Duddleson of the steamer L. C. Waldo, navigated by a small inaccurate compass, and the aid of a lantern held by a sailor.

In this way he guided himself and crew to a reef, where the crew on landing suffered intense cold and hunger until their rescue today.

Ships Crew Barely Escapes

The crew of the Turret Chief, when the ship struck the rocks in Lake Superior were forced to go ashore scantily clad. They built a hut to protect them from the blizzard.

It was impossible today even to estimate the loss of vessels wrecked or damaged by grounding. Shippers in Detroit said the loss on Lake Huron and in Detroit and St. Clair rivers alone would be several hundred thousand dollars.

Three of the wrecked steamers increased the loss by $500,000 while the scores of smaller craft driven ashore in Lake Superior and Lake Erie will send the total much higher.

WILL HOLD POST MORTEM

County Solicitor Guptill Orders Autopsy on Woman Found at Hampton Beach.

The identity of the headless woman whose body was found at Hampton Beach at an early hour Tuesday morning by one of the surfmen attached to the Hampton Beach lifesaving station still remains a mystery.

The body when found was in a badly decomposed state the head, hands and a portion of the fore arms being gone. Medical Referee Sherburne who made the examination was of the opinion that the body had been in the water from three to four weeks. There was nothing to indicate that the woman was a victim of foul play. Since the finding of the body many sensational stories have been in circulation, and to set these fully at rest, this morning County Solicitor Ernest L. Guptill ordered Medical Referee Sherburne to make an autopsy, which will be done either today or tomorrow, at the James undertaking rooms in Hampton.

Considerably stress has been laid to the fact that the body was headless when found. This is accounted for that in floating down the Merrimack river, the body would naturally come in contact with bridges and other obstructions, while at the mouth of the river is the stone jetties. The contact of the head with all of these obstacles would have a tendency to detach it from the body. The body in the opinion of the life savers and the officials is supposed to have come from some of the mill cities on the Merrimack as the clothing worn, would indicate that the party was a working girl.

CABINET STANDS BEHIND WILSON

Unanimous Decision Huerta Must be Eliminated from Mexican Situation.--Foreign Powers May Join in Financial Embargo

Washington, Nov. 11.—President Wilson's cabinet stands firmly behind him in his efforts to force the retirement of Provisional President Huerta as a necessary step to the pacification of Mexico.

For more than two hours today the cabinet discussed every phase of the Mexican situation and the consensus of opinion was that the United States government should not take a single backward step in its announced program looking to the restoration of constitutional government in the neighboring republic.

Though the secretaries were recent afterwards about expressing their views it became known that they all favored steps that would convince Huerta that the United States was in earnest in its demands that he eliminate himself from the situation. On the question of raising the embargo on arms the cabinet members expressed various opinions. Some of them recognized in this method a precedent and perhaps early solution of the difficulty but there was no final decision on the point.

Expect Collapse of Huerta Regime

There is hope on both the part of the President and Secretary Bryan that a measure so radical as permitting exportation of arms may not be required to solve the problem. Influences are at work which in the opinion of many officials may force the early collapse of the Huerta regime. There is a closer understanding for instance and more frequent communication between the state department here and foreign governments generally than

ATTACKS GUARD WITH BOTTLE

Penacook Man Makes Desperate Attempt to Break Jail at Haverhill.

Plymouth, No. 13—Walter Smith of Penacook, it was learned today made a desperate attempt to break jail at Haverhill Saturday.

About four in the afternoon Thursday Henry Harriman entered Smith's cell and as he threw the bolt was attacked by the prisoner who struck him on the head with a quart bottle, wrapped in a towel. The turkey was partially dazed but engaged in a struggle with Smith along the lower corridor. Smith finally succeeded in securing a metal cuspidor and flung the officer.

As the prisoner was attempting to secure the turkey's keys, Jailer Henry W. Phillips entered the corridor. As Smith saw that his prospects for gaining his liberty were diminishing, he drew a razor from his pocket and attempted to cut his throat. The jailer was too quick for him however, and soon had the crazed man in subjection.

Smith was arrested a short time ago after having forced his wife from her home at the point of a revolver, following an alleged brutal assault upon her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Keyser of Rumney.

SECOND TALK OF THE SERIES

Will Take Place at Association Hall on November 19.

The second of the series of opera talks given by Mr. Havrah Hubbard, and accompanied on the piano by Mr. Floyd M. Baxter, will take place on Wednesday evening, Nov. 19, at Association hall. The speaker in the publicity manager of the Boston Opera Company, and has 148 engagements throughout the winter in New England for the opera talks.

The first of the series of talks was presented last Wednesday evening, when "Louise" proved very entertaining. "Louise" is a musical romance in four acts and five scenes by Guy de Maupassant and was presented for the first time on Feb. 2, 1900, at the Opera Comique, Paris. The principal characters are Louise, her mother, Irma, Julien, father of Louise, a noctambulist. The scene is Paris and the time the present. The delineation of

PROGRESSIVES HOLD FORUM

Listen to a Two-Hour Debate on Whether Raw Material Shall Be Admitted Free of Duty.

The Progressive forum was held in U. V. hall Tuesday evening and was well attended and discussed the following question: "That raw material should be admitted free of duty." Four men on a side debated the question for two hours, after which the jury of twelve men retired and after considering the argument an hour were unable to agree. The jury stood nine and three in favor of the negative.

The Progressive Bugle was read by its editor, Simon Katz. It was full of wit and wisdom and patriotism for the Progressive party. The following accounts were timely:

"The men in the outer office whispered among themselves. 'Touch of heart disease?' asked one. 'No; the old man can't take up a note,' said another.

"I've heard rumors of this kind. We fellows will have to be looking for another place."

"Get to work; he's coming to again." The merchant wiped his brow, fetched a despairing sigh, picked up the paper from the floor, as if to summon all his resolution, placed the telegram on his desk and forced himself to read the bitter message. This was it:

Dearest James—Please send the wallet for my gross grain suit at once. You will remember the one, as it has been on the frontage and chained attached to the back. RICHARDS GOES
TO STATE PRISON

White Slaver Gets 12 Years
After Trial in U. S. District Court.

Boston, Nov. 12.—Arthur W. Richards of Lowell was sentenced to 12 years in the state prison at Charlestown today by Judge Clarence Hale in the United States district court for violating the Mann white slave act. The jury had been in deliberation only half an hour when it voted for conviction on all five counts charged by the government.

The young woman involved were Alice Boudray, whom Richards married; Florence Welton and May Florence. The latter was under 18 years of age.

Richards has had a somewhat meteoric career, his activities, it is alleged, having brought him on occasion to Manchester, N. H., where he figured in a case on Lake ave. It has been rumored since the occurrence that Richards was hard pressed during the investigations in Manchester last summer by Burns detectives, at the time when white slave investigations were in progress there.

Florence Welton, the Nashua girl involved in the cases which resulted in Richards' sentence, has also held a prominent place in the limelight for a year or more. She was a prominent figure in the expose of conditions in the Second city, brought about by Police Commissioner Harry A. Gregg. While under arrest in Lowell some months ago she made a desperate attempt to kill herself by taking poison.

It was charged that Richards took the Boudray girl from Woonsocket, R. I., to Haverhill in 1911 for immoral purposes; the Welton girl from Nashua, N. H., to Boston; from Haverhill to Sudon, N. H., and from there to Tyngsboro; and the Florence girl from Haverhill to Salem during the present year.

At the trial Richards took the witness stand in his own behalf and declared that he ever urged the girls to act improperly or that he even knew they were doing so.

In imposing sentence, Judge Hale said that there was sufficient evidence against the defendant to send him to jail for 45 years, but that in view of the character of certain of the parties involved he would reduce the sentence to 12 years.

The prosecution of Richards followed his arrest in Haverhill, Me., last July after he had jumped his bail in the Lowell police court, where he was wanted on a charge of keeping a disorderly house in Braintree.

CABINET STANDS

has been in evidence at any time since the Mexican problem became so widely international.

Not only through the American embassies abroad, but through the diplomatic corps at Washington, Secretary Bryan is giving such detailed information of the American policy as to leave no doubt as to what the United States would like to accomplish. So far as is known there have been no direct requests for foreign support. But the strong intimation that the United States would like foreign nations to refrain completely from interference in the affairs of the Huerta government are expected to produce tangible results.

What the United States is seeking is an acquiescence in its policy by the powers, such an approval to carry with it discouragement of financial aid to the Huerta regime through any foreign subjects. A few weeks of financial isolation, it is believed by high officials here, will force the retirement of Huerta.

May Issue Another Statement

That President Wilson might possibly issue a statement in a day or two making a comprehensive explanation of the purposes of the United States was indicated by some of the diplomats who have now been fully informed about the situation. The President it is said has not fully determined whether he shall have another pronouncement, but it has been suggested to him that such a declaration might place on record before the world the reasons why the elections of President, Vice President and members of congress in Mexico could not be recognized by the United States. It is reported that in this connection too, the President may announce the repudiation in advance of any action of the new congress which General Huerta has said would be convened on November 20th.

President Wilson was in communication again today through Senator Bacon with members of the senate foreign relations committee.

The President feels that members, Republicans and Democrats alike, are supporting the policy of the executive and he is giving serious consideration to their views as in the removal of the embargo on arms.

It was reported today that Sir Edward Tyrell, private secretary to the British foreign minister, Sir Edward Grey has obtained Secretary Bryan's views on the situation and submitted them in a long report on the situation to London. The British Ambassador Sir Cecil Spring Rice is still confined to his bed.

Senor Del La Vega Cuban charge here, issued a statement denying for his government a recent report from Nogales, Sonora that two Cuban warships had been offered to the Mexican constitutionalists. Senor Mellos, the statement said, went to Sonora on an exclusively commercial trip.

CROSS OR FEVERISH?

Look Mother! If Tongue is Coated
Give California Syrup of Figs
To Clean the Bowels

Mother! Your child isn't naturally cross and peevish. See if tongue is coated; this is a sure sign the little stomach, liver and bowels need a cleansing at once.

When listless, pale, feverish, full of cold, breath bad, throat sore, drowsy, eat, sleep, or act naturally, has stomach-ache, diarrhoea, remember a gentle liver and bowel cleansing should always be the first treatment given.

Nothing equals California Syrup of Figs for children's use; give a teaspoonful and in a few hours all the foul waste, sour bile and fermenting food which is clogged in the bowels passes out of the system and you have a well and playful child again. All children love this harmless, delicious fruit laxative and it never fails to effect a good inside cleansing. Directions for babies, children of all ages, and for grown-ups are plainly on the bottle. Keep it handy in your home. A little given today saves a sick child tomorrow, but get the genuine. Ask your druggist for a 50 cent bottle of California Syrup of Figs, then look and see that it is made by the California Fig Syrup Company. Counterfeits are being sold here. Don't be fooled.

GENERAL POLICY IS "HANDS OFF" MEXICO BY FOREIGN POWERS

Washington, Nov. 11.—The Cabinet met again today with all members present, except Secretary Wilson. The Mexican topic was foremost. The raising of the embargo on arms, which has been urged upon the President and practically all the secretaries, was discussed at length.

After a two hours' discussion, devoted principally to the Mexican situation, the Cabinet meeting broke up and, as on previous occasions, all the members preserved absolute silence.

Indications today were that the American policy toward Mexico, which it was hoped the Nations of the world generally would follow, still was "hands off."

The general interpretation of the situation was that the United States, by giving foreign Powers detailed information of its own determination to refuse to recognize the acts of the new Mexican Congress, had indicated a desire that the Powers generally refrain from financial dealings with the Huerta Government.

So far as could be learned there has been no specific request for support by the Powers, but there has been a plain intimation that the Washington Government believes the collapse of the Huerta regime inevitable if foreign aid be withheld.

With the intention to regard as illegal any loans or concessions the new Congress may undertake there has been distinct intimation that a policy of acquiescence by foreign Governments would be gratifying to Washington.

Without financial aid, and with the machinery of government pronounced illegal, officials here expect to see a condition of affairs that may force Huerta to eliminate himself and show the way to a solution of the problem from the American standpoint.

Premier Asquith's speech in London was regarded by high officials here as disclosing a passive attitude of non-interference by Great Britain in the attempt of the United States to solve the situation.

WITNESS ARMY REVIEW

Naples, Nov. 11.—A brilliant scene was witnessed today by the officers and bluejackets of the American battleship Arkansas and Florida, who were present at an imposing army review in honor of the birthday of King Victor Emmanuel.

The American naval officers occupied four carriages next to those of the Prince of Udine, the Duke of Spoleto and Duke Alfonso of Oporto, and surrounded by a large gathering of prominent persons.

About 1000 American sailors and marines were drawn up in line near the saluting base.

During the march past the Duke of Oporto with his staff placed himself beside the carriages containing the American officers, who rose amid loud applause to salute the 11th Bersaglieri Regiment, which had just returned from Tripoli.

The Duke of the Abruzzi was unable to be present, as he had been ordered to leave immediately for the Aegean Sea.

The city is decorated lavishly with the Stars and Stripes.

TO PROVIDE FOR GREATER SAFETY AT SEA

London, Nov. 11.—The American delegates to the international conference for safety of life at sea have arrived here, convinced that the conference, which begins in the Foreign Office today, will mark an epoch for ocean-going passenger travel. All European countries and the United States, Canada and Japan will be represented and all the transatlantic steamship companies have volunteered their support.

The problem in a nut shell is to arrive at an international understanding that will insure the greatest safety for travellers crossing the ocean and to have the results of this international agreement translated into binding laws in the various countries. It is a colossal task, in the opinion of Mr. J. A. Alexander of Missouri, chairman of the American committee, but practical and far reaching results are fully expected.

Ocean passenger travel alone is to be considered, but under this heading the conference will take up hull and bulkhead construction, the rules of the road to prevent collisions in ocean lanes, lifeboats, rafts life preservers, lifeboat crews, lee patrol, drills, lee observations, lee warnings, radio telegraphy, fire protection, fire drill, fire apparatus and derelicts.

Mr. Alexander, together with Mr. J. T. Chamberlain, Commissioner of Navigation, who is secretary of the delegation, and Mr. George Uhler and Mr. Albert Gilbert Smith, vice president of the New York and Cuba Steamship Company; Captain George F. Cooper, hydrographer of the navy; Chief Constructor W. L. Copps and Naval Constructor McBride were received by the United States Ambassador, Mr. Page, at the Embassy yesterday.

These American delegates will be joined by Senator Burton, Captain W. H. G. Bullard, superintendent of the Naval Radio Service, and Mr. Homer L. Ferguson, general manager of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Dry Dock Company. The American delegation has established its headquarters at the Piccadilly Hotel.

Today the Lord Mayor of London will give a dinner to all the delegates at the Mansion House. All the officers of the American line have placed their services at the disposal of the American Committee when these officers are in British ports. The officers of other steamship companies have followed suit for the delegations of other countries.

Lord Mersey, formerly president of the Admiralty Division of the High Court, will preside over the international conference, which is a direct result of the Titanic disaster, the first suggestion for the conference coming from the United States almost immediately after that disaster.

RUB RHEUMATIC, ACHING JOINTS

Rub pain away with a small trial bottle of old "St. Jacobs Oil"

"Rheumatism is 'pain only.' Not one case in fifty requires internal treatment. Stop drugging! Rub soothing, penetrating "St. Jacobs Oil" directly upon the "tender spot" and relief comes instantly. "St. Jacobs Oil" is a harmless rheumatism cure which never disappoints and can not burn the skin.

Timber up! Quit complaining! Get a small trial bottle of "St. Jacobs Oil," from any drug store and in just a moment you'll be free from rheumatic pain, soreness and stiffness. Don't suffer! Relief and a cure awaits you. "St. Jacobs Oil" is just as good for sciatica, neuralgia, lumbago, backache, sprains and swellings.

Rubertus of the District of Columbia; James L. Underhill of California; Louis E. Fagan, Jr., of Pennsylvania; Keller E. Rocky of Pennsylvania; Byron C. Hutchinson of South Carolina; Egbert C. Lloyd of the District of Columbia; George W. Hamilton of New York; Louis M. Bourne Jr., of North Carolina; George L. Davis of New Jersey; David H. Miller of New Jersey, and Matthew S. Kingman of Iowa.

After the examination had been held Mr. Daniels found that the examining board had used the aptitude test in what he regarded as an arbitrary manner. He decided to abolish the aptitude test and replace the list with "the aptitudinal eliminated." The revision had the effect of changing the standing of several of the candidates, some being stricken from the eligible list and others restored.

Misses Turnage and Bourne who are from North Carolina, the secretary's native state were among those restored to the list by the revision. Mr. Daniels appeared in person before the senate naval committee, and in addition wrote to Senator Tillman, chairman of the committee defending his action.

BLUEJACKETS ROBBED OF BIG SUMS IN ITALY

Rome, Nov. 11.—The bluejackets of the American battleship Utah and Delaware, now at Viterbo and of the Vermont and Ohio, at Marseilles, are greatly mortified, for they have been robbed of no less than $12,000, which they had entrusted to the care of Camerazzo, a former landman on the Utah, for the purpose of arranging a Italian excursion for them during their stay.

Camerazzo had been recommended to the sailors by Chaplain William H. L. Reamey of the Utah, who is now in Rome. About 1000 bluejackets who wished to pay a visit to Rome handed over their money to the former landman, with instructions to engage a special train for them.

This he promised to do but when the men had obtained their shore leave and were ready to start, they found Camerazzo had absconded with the cash, and they had to abandon the trip.

No matter how much dripping is used when being fried is apt to stick to the pan's bottom. If a tablespoonful of dry salt is put into the pan and rubbed over it will be found satisfactory.

NEW HAMPSHIRE COLLEGE NOTES

New Hampshire College, Durham Nov. 11.—New Hampshire College alumni are making preparations for the annual gathering in Boston, which this year will be held in the Elks Club house there.

A large attendance of the graduates of the school is expected, as many of them are engaged in New England agricultural and in engineering work. President E. T. Fairchild will be present and will speak.

President E. T. Fairchild left today for Washington, D. C., where he will attend the annual meeting of the Association of American Agricultural Colleges and Experiment Stations. John C. Kendall, director of the New Hampshire experiment station here, is also in attendance, as are other members of the college faculty. Prof. F. W. Taylor of the agricultural department of the college is one of these and Prof. C. E. Hewitt of the department of electrical engineering is attending the session of the Land Grant College Engineering Organization, also meeting at this time in Washington, D. C.

CONFIRMS MARINE OFFICERS

The senate on Monday confirmed the nomination of fourteen candidates for appointments as second lieutenants in the marine corps. These appointments have been held up for several months at the request of Senator O'Gorman, of New York who protested in the senate naval committee against the action of Mr. Daniels the secretary of the navy, in abolishing the so-called aptitude test and ordering a re-marking of the examination papers after the examination had been closed.

The new lieutenants are Henry L. Larson of Colorado; John C. Foster a chief yeoman in the navy; William W.

MAIL DRIVER GOT AWAY WITH $10,000

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Theft of money and jewelry valued at $10,000 from a mail sack was disclosed today by Col. James Stuart, postoffice inspector here.

The crime is alleged by Col. Stuart to have been committed by Albert Tardy, a mail wagon driver.

It is alleged that he collected five sacks containing registered packages at the South Water street, Masonic Temple and Stock Exchange substations.

Suspicion was aroused when the wagon containing four of the sacks was found abandoned at the Union Station. These sacks contained $4000 in money and gems, which had not been disturbed.

Tardy's wife was found today with some difficulty, as Tardy had given his address at a number which proved to be a vacant lot. She said Tardy visited her for a few moments last night, told her that he had stolen $10,000 from a mail sack and would write to her as soon as he had escaped "across the border."

He gave her a small sum of money she said, and left, saying that he would catch a midnight train, whether for the Canadian or the Mexican border he did not say.

Col. Stuart said Tardy served a term in the Missouri penitentiary for highway robbery and another at Joliet for attempting to steal a truck load of trucks. Tardy was employed by H. G. Stager, who has a contract with the postoffice department for teaming in this city, and is under bond to make good any losses suffered through him.

Early Xmas Shopping.

Six weeks from tonight will be Christmas eve. Have you as much as started on your Christmas shopping?

The movement has gained strength, but in the effort to distribute the additional burden that falls upon the shop girl every year at the period, when rejoicing and vacations are in the air, its effect is still negligible. Go into any one of the big department stores during the closing days and see.

The trouble is that a large part of the "Do Your Shopping Early" movement has passed out in talk. Not that this talk isn't essential. The only way to produce results in a movement, which depends purely on the good-will and effort of the individual, is to keep on advertising and harping upon the same theme. Some of the seed thus sown will bear fruit.

But other seed which falls not on barren ground, and should ripen, is choked by the weeds of procrastination. "Yes, indeed, we must do our Christmas shopping early this year" is a common remark. And the last week finds the inevitable hurrying and scurrying to get the belated presents for family and friends.

The time to do early Christmas shopping is not to do it "early" but to do it "now." And this, in the language of the trespassing sign, "means you."—Boston Herald.

An Important Question.

Does the constitution of the United States give the federal government authority to prevent the pollution of navigable streams? The war department is now seeking such authority to meet complaints as to the pollution of the Ohio river below Pittsburgh. It may seem rather a strain upon the sanction which the constitution provides, but the experts are to see what effect acids dumped into the river have upon steamboat boilers and upon locks along the river. If the pollution is causing injury in these respects the government will assume the right to prevent it in the interest of navigation. Whatever remedy may be found, it is an abuse that should be stopped; the befouling of beautiful rivers is a disgrace to civilization.—Springfield Republican.

Getting After a "Road Hog."

Attorney Henry F. Hurlburt of Lynn will have the best wishes of all motorists in bringing a "road hog" before the Massachusetts highway commission with the demand that his license be revoked. There is nothing on the statute books against "road hogs." The man in an automobile who will neither go ahead with increased speed or turn aside to let the motor car behind him pass, however, deserves to be dealt with and the Lynn attorney is doing a fine, gratuitous service to autoists in general in getting after one of the species.—Malden News.

Set Good Example.

Without exception the presidents of the United States set a splendid example to other American citizens in their conduct upon election days. No matter where their homes may be it is a rare thing for them not to go back from Washington to register their votes in state, national and even municipal elections. They do not wait for some ward heeler to call for them with a hack or an automobile but make it their special business to go to the polls and mark the ballot.—Taunton Gazette.

Says the U. S. Is Wrong in Its Mexican Policy.

A document published by Cassius E. Gillette, the engineer officer who exposed the Carter Green-Gaynor frauds at Savannah, Ga., on the Mexican situation, throws an entirely different light on the situation. It shows that President Wilson's policy is all wrong and from a careful reading of the facts as he presents them it would appear that we as a people are making a mistake. Mr. Gillette appears to be thoroughly posted on the Mexican question.

War on the Maine Clubs.

Down in Maine at the present time the sheriffs are giving considerable attention to the raiding of the so-called club rooms. At a recent raid at the Elks' Home a large amount of liquor was discovered and a number of lockers were forcibly broken open. The Maine club rooms have been noted for years for their thirst quenching qualities.

No Cause for Thanksgiving.

Now comes the unwelcome news that the price of eggs at Thanksgiving time may be from 75 cents to $1.00 per dozen. While this may be pleasing news to the owners of large flocks of hens, it however does not give the average housekeeper any cause for thanksgiving in these days when the price of the necessities of life are soaring upwards.

Eyes of Whole World on Mexico City, Where Huerta's Iron Hand Rule Was Opposed by the United States.

Victoriano Huerta, the provisional president of Mexico, whose rule President Wilson refused to recognize, held sway over Mexico City, the national capital, with an iron hand. His soldiers constantly patrolled the principal streets and guarded the palace carefully, as shown in one of these pictures. A general view of Mexico City is also shown. The eyes of the whole world were on this city as the Mexican situation grew more critical.

PHILADELPHIA'S WONDERFUL MAYOR

In the interesting People Department of the November American Magazine appears a sketch of Rudolph Blankenberg. The following extract from the article gives some idea of the kind of man Blankenberg is and also what he has accomplished:

"Blankenberg says that the women and the children of the city elected him. At one of the ward meetings held in a factory district where Mr. Blankenberg's opponent was in the ascendancy a woman rose in the audience. She was a poorly dressed, thin creature and the men assembled stared as she started to speak. It was a pitiful story of a hunted soul struggling in the toils of that dead in human form the loan shark. Tighter and tighter the net had wound until at last everything had gone and life seemed not worth the struggle. Then he came to her help unexpected, managing out of her despair she had been freed from the persecution that had hunted her down sent on her way with new courage. The man who had done this was Rudolph Blankenberg. With tears streaming down her cheeks she asked their votes for him, this man who had saved her and thousands like her.

"The day he entered office he promised the citizens a business administration. He began by writing in all the leading shipping agencies in the world calling attention to Philadelphia's transportation facilities and low freight rates westward. Mayor Blankenberg is also Manufacturer Blankenberg. Recently several ocean liners arrived in port in one day, a number undreamed of a year before. He introduced into the legislature a bill which will permit the city to acquire and control its docks and wharves. He stopped waste everywhere, saved $222,000 on the garbage contract, $50,000 on the electric light contract. He put an end to the enormous gratuity of paying damages to people whose property lay along proposed boulevards and adopted a system of paying the assessed value plus ten per cent on all property needed for city use. "He is a big man this clean whose-souled lovable German, fathering the children, espousing the cause of the women, playing with all his might, and working with all his might as well and at 70 tackling one of the most difficult tasks that America offers."

POSTMASTERS WILL LICK XMAS STAMPS

Washington, Nov. 11.—Christmas day's work will not be forced to lick their own stamps when they do their own parcels for mailing, unless they wish to, for the postoffice department announced today that its postmasters and their assistants would attend to that duty if requested. The innovation is put in force in the interests of better mail service during the holiday rush and is expected to facilitate the movement of the vast crush of matter that will tax the resources of the department.

Orders were issued today to postmasters to affix postage when requested, on mail matter of the second, third and fourth class, the latter being parcel post matter.

BLAMES WIFE FOR NOTE

Former Commander Walker Also Charges Mother-in-Law With Butting In.

Newport, R. I., Nov. 11.—Former Commander James W. G. Walker, son of the late rear admiral was on the stand all day testifying in his wife's suit for divorce. He told Judge Stearns that his wife had written at least two thirds of the alleged copy of Mabel Cochrane's letter to him herself, and had changed the entire tone of the letter.

"She put in the muck and nonsense that were lacking in the original," he said.

He also denied ever receiving Miss Cochrane's picture through the mail, but did say that she had given him a picture of herself when she was working as a waitress in a restaurant in the North station in Boston, which he later returned as Mrs. Walker objected.

Miss Cochrane, the correspondent, was a governess in the Walker family.

Mr. Walker spoke bitterly of his mother-in-law Mrs. Virginia S. Chin of Washington and his sister-in-law, Miss Bertha Chin who he accuses of "butting in" to his family affairs and causing family dissensions.

He told of the sensational manner in which his wife left him. It was on October 19, 1909 in the afternoon. He had lunch at 1 o'clock and came back from his duties at 5 to find his home deserted his furniture gone, with many of his personal belongings. He had not had time to say anything of his wife's intention of leaving him.

She went to her mother's house immediately. The next morning he was served with papers in the divorce suit.

IN THE LITERARY WORLD

The December Smart Set.

A novelette by Will Lovington Comfort, "The Painted Wilderness," is the chief feature of the December issue of The Smart Set. This is a spirited story of the Southwest, very tense and dramatic; it relates an experience in the life of a sheriff who follows the trail of duty down over the border into Mexico and meets Romance and Fortune on the road. Mr. Comfort's best work is in this story, in which he has returned to the field of his earlier successes.

"The Lie," by Ludwig Lewisohn, is a one-act play that smacks of the Continental manner. It presents a domestic tangle in a peculiarly striking manner. It has been pronounced a significant addition to the small but important "drama of ideas" in this country.

Other short story features include "The Breaking Loose of Mr. Smalley," by David Quarell; "An Egghead," by W. L. George; "On the Devil's Stairs," by Guido von Horvath; "Saddling in the Reprisal," by Frank M. Barber; and "The Quince," by Laura L. Hanyon.

"The Night Life of London," by Willard Huntington Wright, the third in the series of European night romance articles, describes the hidden joys of life after dark indulged in by London pleasure seekers.

Poetry of the Smart Set brand of unusualness is contributed by Bliss Carman, Witter Bynner, Ezra Pound, Richard Burton, Willard Huntington Wright, Maxwell Struthers Burt, Edward J. O'Brien and George Sterling.

"BOUGHT AND PAID FOR"

A Genuine Dramatic Sensation in Its Sixth Week at the Majestic Theatre, Boston.

That Boston thoroughly appreciates a bright American play is shown conclusively by the success of George Broadhurst's "Bought and Paid For," which is now in its second month and is to begin the sixth week of its engagement in that city next Monday night at the Majestic theatre. Denoting as it does with a situation from everyday domestic life, the play's appeal is a wide one. This fact, together with the elaborate production and the excellence of the acting, makes it highly probable that the play will make a record run.

Already it has been declared to be one of the popular hits of a decade, with indications that it will make dramatic history in Boston by reason of continued capacity business.

So skillfully has the author drawn this vivid picture of human existence, with its laughs and tears following each other in quick succession, that the audience feels a debt of gratitude to Mr. Broadhurst for an abundance of genuine entertainment.

The story of a rich man's affection for the pretty telephone operator, his wooing of her, their subsequent marriage and the big problem which comes into their lives, is a gripping theme and one which arouses more than passing interest. How this couple becomes estranged, though each is firmly in love with the other, and how through the avarice of a concealed "boob" they are brought together again, is made a dramatic narrative of much power.

MISSING ON WEDDING EVE

Mystery in Disappearance of P. C. Fairbanks of Brockton.

Brockton, Nov. 11.—Mystery surrounds the sudden disappearance of P. C. Fairbanks, formerly a quartermaster in the navy, on the eve of his wedding to Miss Mabel Kingman, daughter of Supl. Horace Kingman of the water department.

Miss Kingman is prostrated, and the marriage which was to have taken place Monday night has been indefinitely postponed. Telegrams have been sent to the navy department at Washington to learn if possible whether the young man may have re-enlisted.

The last seen of Fairbanks was on Wednesday last when he escorted his fiancée from his home at 576, Crescent street, where she had been a guest, to her own home at 112 Summer street. No one is able to describe a reason for his leaving Brockton.

Supl. Kingman said tonight that there had been no quarrel between the young people and that his daughter had no word from Fairbanks since last week. Fairbanks' parents also declare they have no notion where he may have gone.

He served seven years in the navy and was discharged last summer while serving as quartermaster on the battleship New Jersey. He had announced his intention of quitting the sea and going into business at Portland.

INDICTMENTS QUASHED

Boston, Nov. 11.—Indictments pending for 13 years against John P. Dickinson and George F. Foster in connection with the failure of the South Danvers National Bank were quashed today by United States Dist. Atty. Asa P. French. The action was taken after consulting Atty. General McReynolds as a result of death of witnesses whose testimony was regarded as essential to the government's case.

Dickinson who was a promoter and Foster who was cashier of the bank were found guilty of misappropriation of funds of the bank. Dickinson was sentenced to nine years in jail but he never served a day of his sentence.

The men were tried twice. A mistrial was declared when a jurymen was found intoxicated. They were convicted by a jury of ten men after two foremen had been excused by illness and family bereavement. Dickinson had agreed to excusing the foreman, but after conviction appealed, and was sustained by the court of appeals which ruled that a man can not legally waive his right to a trial by 12 men. The government appealed in turn but the appeal was denied by the supreme court.

As a result a new trial was ordered. This was in 1909 after the case had dragged along for nine years. Important witnesses had died meantime, and the government found it impossible to complete its case. Today's quashing of the indictments is the result.

The men have been out on bail of $16,000 since their arrest.

OF GREAT USE IN BREAKING UP COLDS

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil is a Thing Long Desired

Every one knows the value of castor oil in breaking up fall and winter colds but most people have found it too hard to take.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil does away with this only objection. It is pure simple, castor oil without taste or odor. Nothing is added; nothing good taken out.

In making Castor Oil tasteless, Spencer Kellogg & Sons of Buffalo have discovered a secret that has evaded chemists for 3000 years.

Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil works better than the old evil-tasting kind. It operates pleasantly without griping, and does not upset the stomach. Children take it readily.

Do not confuse Kellogg's Tasteless Castor Oil with the prepared mixed or flavored oils. It is the only true, pure, tasteless kind. Sold in all drug stores, not in bulk, but in 25c and 50c sizes. The public is protected by the trade mark—a green castor leaf, bearing the signature—Kellogg's.

Made only by Spencer Kellogg & Sons, Inc., Buffalo, oil refiners

GOVERNOR'S KIN IN HULL HOUSE

Young Girl Runs Away from Convent—$1,000 Reward Was Offered.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—Emily Thomas, the 15 year old granddaughter of William J. Dill, eleventh governor of Illinois, and who escaped from a convent at Springfield, Illinois on Oct. 25, was found here today at Hull House settlement.

A country-wide search for the girl has been prosecuted under the stimulus of a $1000 reward offered by Mrs. Editha Bissell Thomas of Springfield, the runaway's grandmother.

Emily said she tired of convent life and so embraced the opportunity of escape when it offered. She was picked up in a railway station here and gave a false name. Her true name was discovered on a book from which she had tried to escape it.

She was working at $4 a week employment for her having been obtained by officials of the settlement.

OBITUARY

Fred T. Slater,

Fred T. Slater, for a number of years a well known business man of Gloucester, Mass., died on Monday morning after an illness of only two days, death resulting from an attack of paralysis. He had previously suffered a similar shock on August 4, which left him in an enfeebled condition, although he was able to get about and was at his place of business on Saturday. He was a native of this city, the son of the late John H. Slater, who for many years conducted a grocery business on Market street. He went to Gloucester in 1893 as a clothing salesman for Kent & Boynton, having been in their employ at their branch store in this city. He remained in their employ for several years, when he established himself in business in Wetherell's block, where he remained until 1908, when he disposed of his business and removed to Cleveland, O., where his family still reside. He returned to Gloucester about four years ago, where he has since resided and conducted business. He was an ardent lover of nature and an authority on game of various kinds, being a very persistent hunter. He leaves a widow and three children. The body was brought to this city this afternoon for burial in the family lot in Harmony Grove cemetery.

Y. M. C. A. NOTES

The Business Science Club will meet in Association Hall Thursday evening, at 6.15. Mr. Carney will lecture on the last lesson in the series of ten which was started last spring, at the close of the Business Men's supper.

All members of the class are urgently requested to be present, as there are matters of importance to be discussed. The Business Men's Gymnasium class will meet this evening at 6.15. The class meets at this time at the close of business hours that the men may be at liberty to make engagements for the evening. An hour of recreation after business hours to stir up the circulation followed by a shower bath gives new life and goes a long way toward fitting one for the enjoyment of life.

The Autumn Bazaar under the auspices of the Ladies Auxiliary will be held in Association Hall Monday and Tuesday afternoons and evenings, November 17th and 18th. At the seven o'clock hours will be a display of fancy articles, aprons, flowers, candy, cake and ice cream. A grocery booth will be one of the special features. An entertainment will be provided each evening.

The first members athletic meet of the season will be held Friday evening November 21st. Those in the senior and intermediate departments are eligible to compete. Among the events will be a fence vault, shot put, running high jump, three standing broad jumps, potato race and a dash.

WHAT'S INDIGESTION? WHO CARES? LISTEN!

"Pape's Diapiesin" Makes Sick, Sour, Gassy Stomachs Surely Feel Fine in Five Minutes

Time! In five minutes all stomach distresses will go. No indigestion, heartburn, sourness or belching or gas, acid, or eructations of undigested food, no dizziness, floating, foul breath or headache.

Pape's Diapiesin is noted for its speed in regulating upset stomachs. It is the surest, quickest, and most certain indigestion remedy in the whole world, and besides it is harmless.

Millions of men and women now eat their favorite foods without fear—they know that Pape's Diapiesin will save them from any stomach misery.

Please for your sake get a large 50 cent case of Pape's Diapiesin from any drug store and put your stomach right. Don't keep on being miserable—life is too short—you are not here long to make your stay agreeable. Eat what you like and digest it; enjoy it without dread of rebellion in the stomach.

Pape's Diapiesin belongs in your home anyway. Should one of the family eat something which don't agree with them or in case of an attack of indigestion, dyspepsia, gastritis, or stomach derangement in the daytime or during the night, it is handy to give the quickest, surest relief known.

WORK FOR RETIRED ARMY OFFICERS.

Retired army officers may be rudely aroused from their well earned leisure and be forced to take command of troops in certain contingencies if the War Department induces Congress to enact the necessary legislation. The department would be empowered to place a retired army officer in command of a military post when a moment of troops leaves a post without the garrison. The law at present provides that "officers retired from military service shall be withdrawn from command" but permits their assignment to "staff duties not involving service with troops." As the command of a post even when its garrison is away, involves command of a certain number of men of the medical and quartermaster corps as well as certain other enlisted men of the line, the proposed legislation would be necessary to overcome the present prohibition of duties "involving the service with troops."

6 MEN PERISH ON LIGHTSHIP

Fragments of Wreckage on Shores of Lake Erie Tell Awful Tale.

Buffalo, N. Y., November 11.—Fragments of wreckage tossed ashore along many miles of lake front today confirmed the fear that the storm on Lake Erie Sunday and Monday had claimed its toll of death. Six men perished when Lightship No. 23 was torn from her anchorage, 15 miles up the lake and foundered or was shattered on the breakwater wall during the snow storm Monday.

At Lorain, Ohio, the steamer G. J. Grammer, Captain Burns is hard ashore and in a dangerous position. Life savers are standing by, but have been unable to take off the crew because of the high seas. The crew lost with Lightship No. 23, follows:

Captain Hugh M. Williams, of Main street, Mich.

Andrew Leahy, mate, Elvira.

Charles Butler, engineer, Buffalo.

Cornelius Leahy, assistant engineer, Conneaut, Ohio.

Peter Mackey, cook Buffalo.

William Jensen, seaman, Muskegon, Mich.

The first news of possible disaster to the lightship was brought by the captain of the ore-carrier Chippewa, the first vessel in lake port since Sunday. He informed Captain Fred Herbert of the government tender Croesus, who reported to Inspector Hoscoe, director of the ninth lightship district and at once started up the lake. About the same time Inspector House received word that wreckage was coming ashore at the foot of Michigan street.

A door, some broken panels and other wreckage identified as a part of the lightship floated in through the south gap of the breakwater was Inspector House chartered a tug and joined Captain Herbert in the search.

No trace of the lightship was found, however, and when this afternoon one of her lifeboats was picked up all hope was abandoned. In the lifeboat were three life preservers and a broken oar was still fastened to one of the portholes.

The G. J. Grammer is a freighter, 218 feet in length, 48 breadth, and 28 deep. She was built in West Superior, Wis., in 1902.

CLEVELAND BURIED IN SNOW SUFFERS A FOOD SHORTAGE

People Swept By Gale for Three Days and Two Millions Destroyed --City Cut Off By Broken Wires-- Schools Closed.

Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 11.—Cleveland is buried under 21 inches of snow, its streets are filled with a tangled mass of broken and twisted wires, and hundreds of its inhabitants are in imminent danger of suffering for lack of food. Three persons have been killed, ten are missing and are believed to have been frozen to death and a great steamship is stranded on the beach, its captain and 22 crew members waiting for the death that may come at any moment because of the mountainous snow rolling in from Lake Erie.

It is still snowing, and under the storm which has continued since last Sunday noon, there is no one to tell what the ultimate toll in dollars and lives will be.

The loss is already estimated at $2,000,000, half of which will fall upon the telephone and telegraph companies. Normal conditions cannot be restored within a week, and if a thaw should come the whole Lake country will suffer severely.

Conditions have been growing worse since last night, when half of the city was plunged in darkness, the lighting plant being blown down by the gale. This morning at least one-half of the street car service was out of commission, and no less than 2000 trolley telegraph and telephone poles within the city limits had been blown down.

So complete was the paralysis of transportation facilities it was deemed best to let the dead lie in the places where they had died, and no funeral will be held until the storm has abated.

There has been no delivery of groceries, bread, milk or coal since Saturday, and the suffering in consequence cannot be definitely learned, but it is widespread. There is a sufficient supply of gas, and it is being used sparingly in places fitted for it, but so many persons as possible may be benefited.

One of the greatest fears is from fire. Already one fire has done $100,000 damage, and the difficulties encountered in extinguishing it were such as to cause the authorities the greatest apprehension should another fire break out. Every possible precaution is being taken by the exhausted firemen and policemen.

For days the telephone and telegraph companies have been battling against the conditions that confront them, and with but little success. The immense number of wires down and the loss of so many poles make the task of completing even temporary repairs one of the greatest magnitude. The physical effort required by workers in the teeth of the terrible storm is another handicap.

At 10 o'clock this morning a glance through the debris-strewn streets, led to the belief that days will pass before they can be cleared.

All the schools of the city are closed. The danger attendant upon the passing of children through the streets and the unusual conditions surrounding them in the schoolhouses, many of which have been thrown open to the elements, prompted the authorities to suspend classes until the blizzard abates.

The food shortage, felt Monday afternoon became more pronounced and threatening this morning. There is a milk to be had at any price, except it be obtained in the name of suffering babies, and other foodstuffs are rapidly going to a premium where it is possible to find them. Many families were caught with little more than the food supply required to carry them over Sunday, and as there have been no shipments received since Saturday the supply is rapidly being exhausted.

The hotels present a scene of unusual activity. Many persons driven into the city by the storm have taken shelter where they could find it. Beds were not to be had for all of them, and many are sleeping on the floors without coat or covering except such clothing as they happen to have on them. The food supply in the hotels and restaurants is also a problem.

The steamer on the beach at the mouth of the Lorain Harbor was later learned to be the J. G. Garner, Capt. Barnes, of Buffalo, Life savers are standing by but are helpless to aid because of the heavy seas.

CREW BELIEVED TO BE LOST

Port Huron, Mich., Nov. 11.—The tug Santa City returned this forenoon after an all night watch over the big 600-foot steel freighter, which was capsized in Lake Huron. No additional information as to the identity of the vessel was obtained, the name of the vessel being far beneath the water and the waves were too high to permit of close inspection.

The fact that the huge vessel is lying bottom up, eight miles out in the storm-swept lake, has convinced local mariners that the ship's crew had practically no chance to escape. Just when or where disaster overtook the steamer it is not possible to say. Such vessels carry crews of from 20 to 40 men, and from present indications none of those on board the overturned craft escaped. No castaways have been reported picked up by other vessels and in such a storm as that of Sunday night and Monday it would be impossible for shipwrecked men to survive long. It is probable the derelict drifted a long distance after being capsized, possibly owing to a shifting of cargo.

Captain Plough, in charge of the local life saving station, left this morning with his crew for the scene of the wreck. Searching parties were also organized to patrol the shore in search of wreckage.

The only "new" features you will find will be economy and more appetizing food.

Use any recipes you like—but remember to use one-third less of Cottolene than you would of butter, lard or any other shortening.

Cottolene not only makes better, lighter and entirely digestible biscuits, pies, cakes and other pastries, but it always "creams-up" beautifully, blending perfectly with the flour or sugar.

You cannot "experiment" with Cottolene. Using it is so simple and so completely satisfactory that pointed. These delegates are from every state in the Union. They represent states, counties, municipalities, educational institutions, and national and local organizations.

This year's session of the Conservation Congress will be held Nov. 18, 19 and 20 in this city. It will be the first general gathering of Conservationists in the National Capital since the Conference of Governors. For this reason, the Executive committee has determined to devote the greater part of the program to Forest and Water Power Conservation, the subjects with which the movement began. The sessions will be open to all who are interested.

Delegates already appointed from the State of New Hampshire are: Mrs. J. H. Dearborn, Suncook, representing the Woman's National Rivers and Harbors Congress; George H. Vinton, Rollinsford; R. W. Gould of Contoosook; J. E. Littlefield of New London; L. J. Henderson of Greenland; O. P. Roberts of Windsor, representing the N. H. Forestry Growers' Association; J. L. Shedd of Keene, representing the Keene Humane Society; Prof. Frank Hugh Dixon, representing Dartmouth.

TRAINMEN REJOICE IN INCREASE OF PAY

Boston Nov. 11.—There was general rejoicing on the part of the railroad trainmen this morning when they read the decision in their favor in the arbitration dispute with the railroads over the increase in the wage scale. The railroad officials were reluctant to give expression to their opinions in regard to the award.

The press department of the Boston & Maine Railroad gave out this: "It is rather embarrassing just at this time, but we have got to pay."

Pres. McQuinn of the Boston and Maine had no time to be interviewed and one of his assistants stated that he had absolutely nothing to say.

The officials at the Boston & Albany were also reluctant to discuss the situation in the absence of the official decision, but at the same time acknowledged a very comprehensive story this morning on the sweeping effect of the award.

Pres. Elliott of the N. Y. N. H. & H. Railroad was in New York as the vice president, and nothing could be learned from that quarter.

The trainmen were looking happy and were doubly pleased and many said that the decision in their favor was ample proof of the justice of their contention.

$1,783,000 FOR HAWAIIAN ISLANDS

The estimates for military barracks soon to be erected in the Hawaiian Islands call for $1,783,000 and at Panama $1,408,000 for a like purpose. The arrangements for forces for the Hawaiian barracks are as follows:

Schofield Barracks—Two regiments of infantry, one regiment of cavalry, one regiment of field artillery, one battalion heavy field artillery, one field signal company, one telegraph company, signal corps and two field ambulance companies.

Fort Shafter—Four battalions of infantry and one battalion of engineers.

Fort Ruger—Three companies of coast artillery.

Fort Kaneohe—Five companies of coast artillery for southeast defense proper, one company of coast artillery for main defense and two companies of coast artillery for manning the heavy guns.

PHINNEY VS. ATLANTIC SHORE LINE IN THE UNITED STATES COURT

The United States District Court reconvened here on Tuesday, when the case of Phinney vs. the Atlantic Shore Line was called and a jury at once empaneled.

This is an action brought by Robert W. Phinney of this city, to recover for personal injuries received May 28, 1912, at Ellet, by being thrown from a car on the defendant's railway. Mr. Phinney, who at that time owned a farm in Ellet, was on his way home and the conductor not heeding his signal carried him beyond the road into a private way, and he was about to alight when the car was started and he was thrown, receiving injuries of a permanent nature. He alleges that it was carelessness of the car crew.

S. W. Emery and E. L. Gupilli for the plaintiff, Geo. T. Hughes of Dover, and Aaron Cole of Ellet for the railway.

Tuesday afternoon the court took a recess until Thursday, as Judge Allrich has to be in Boston, on the Court of Appeals Wednesday.

TO MAKE A PERFECT WOMAN

Philadelphia, Pa., Nov. 11.—Bryn Mawr has completed its "Triumph of the Superwoman" and within a few days the first class of twenty girls ranging in age from ten to twelve years, will be started on the road to perfect young womanhood.

Among the things that the graduates of the new system are expected to do, are to read Latin, French and German at sight; to solve original problems in geometry and algebra; to write clear and appreciative compositions; to draw, to model and appreciate pictures and statues at sight, and to express rhythmically movement in dancing and by simple musical composition. These accomplishments, aside from the perfect health that the new system aims at, the graduates will have at the age of seventeen or eighteen years. The promoters of the arrangement are certain that the girls will enter college ready to excel other students in all things.

The quaint little Japanese pavilion in which the Phoebe Anna Thorne open air model school will be housed has been completed after many delays, and is all that its promoters had hoped it would be. On Wednesday the little girls will be transferred to it from Delgely Hall and the first of the interesting classes will be started.

The building is dainty and pleasing in the extreme. Set out amid thriving autumn trees, the class rooms overlook a fine, athletic ground, in which the youngsters may frolic, under proper direction at the completion of their school day sessions. The structure is one story in height, with a projecting platform surrounding it. It is a reddish brown on the outside and decorated in soft brown and with elaborate frescoing in the class rooms. The benches used in the school are an improvement on all of the old cranked up types. They are broad and comfortable, and in line with the policy every fixture that will make for ease in study has been adopted. The school is in every sense an open air institution, and except in inclement weather both the doors and windows will be kept open the year round.

The present arrangements are that a school of this type will be created each year on the grounds of Bryn Mawr until there are seven in all. At the end of that time the present class will be graduated and the new idea will be working out to its fullest. To protect them from cold the children will wear garments modeled to a degree after the fashions adopted by the Esquimaux. They are made of heavy blanketing, very woolly and are tight in color.

If the present arrangements for eating are adhered to the children will receive a light breakfast at eleven o'clock in the morning. At half-past one in the afternoon they will go to the porch of Delgely Hall, where each one will roll up and sleep on the mats provided for them. It is part of the day's routine. This nap will last until two o'clock, when class work will be resumed until half-past two. During the afternoon the children will have plenty of active outdoor exercise.

The open air school is not exactly an educational experiment except in its broadest aspect. It is a system, or rather a combination of system, of education, the outcome of which is watched with the greatest interest of educators throughout the world. Dr. M. Cary Thomas, president of Bryn Mawr, is naturally enthusiastic over the scheme, for which preparations have been in progress since the death of Phoebe Anna Thorne, whose interest in open air education and whose bequest to the college made the new school possible.

The outdoor feature of the new arrangement has been tried out for some months and the results have been exceedingly encouraging.

One important announcement regarding the school was made today. It is that one graduate at the end of each seven year course whose career in the school shows the most promise will receive a scholarship of $2,200. Graduates of the school are also eligible to compete for the Francis Simpson free tuition scholarship.

Phoebe de Mantolien, a graduate of the Jacques Dalcroze College of Rhythmic Training at Hellerau, Germany, has been placed in charge of the open air pupils during their exercise periods. It is claimed for the Jacques Dalcroze system that after a few years training pupils are able to express rhythmically by dancing and gesture music of all types and are in time able to improvise and compose music themselves.

RATHER GO TO JAIL THAN SUPPORT FAMILY

Edward O'Keefe who a week ago was arraigned in District Court for non support of his wife and two children and ordered to pay $7 a week for their board, and who ordered to go to jail for three months rather than support his family, was given another opportunity on Tuesday.

At the solicitation of his fellow workmen in the Portsmouth Brewing Co., who had secured him a job and who had also arranged for his bail, Judge Torrey gave O'Keefe a hearing in Sheriff Spincey's office on Tuesday, and agreed to cut down the amount of the payment per week from $7 to $6. This would be given his wife and two

IF HAIR IS TURNING GRAY, USE SAGE TEA

Don't Look Old! Try Grandmother's Recipe to Darken and Beautify Faded, Listless Hair

That beautiful even shade of dark glossy hair can only be had by brewing a mixture of Sage Tea and Sulphur. Your hair is your charm. It makes or mars the face. When it fades, turns gray, streaked and looks dry, wispy and scraggly, just an application or two of Sage and Sulphur. Don't bother to prepare the tonic; enhances its appearance a hundredfold. You can get from any drug store a 50 cent bottle of Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur Hair Remedy, ready to use. This can always be depended upon to bring back the natural color, thickness, and lustre of your hair, and remove dandruff stop scalp itching, and falling hair.

Everybody uses Wyeth's Sage and Sulphur because it darkens so naturally and evenly that nobody can tell it has been applied. You simply dampen a sponge or soft brush with it and draw this through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; by morning the gray hair has disappeared, and after another application it becomes beautifully dark and appears glossy, lustrous and abundant.

children less than half of his wages, but O'Keefe stubbornly refused to give in and said he would rather remain in jail. O'Keefe has been treated very lightly in this matter, but he fails to appreciate this fact. He deserted his family some months ago leaving them destitute with a lot of unpaid bills, and for over two months not a word was heard from him, and his associates were of the opinion that he had done away with himself. In the meantime his family were thrown on the county to support and the little girl had a relapse of whooping cough and was very ill and was under the care of the district nurse.

A warrant had been issued for O'Keefe under the new law charging him with desertion, which is a felony and punishable for a states person sentenced, but the police were unable to locate him. Suddenly he came back and took his place in the family and started to interfere with the medical treatment of the little girl. He was arrested on his stating that he was again going to leave town and in court the warrant was changed from desertion to non support, a much lesser offense, and an agreement was sought whereby he would support his family and every opportunity given him to make good, but he was defiant to the court and went to jail rather than give a bond to support his family.

HINTS FOR THE KITCHEN

The addition of a little soda mixed with a teaspoonful of cornstarch to the cream before pouring it into the tomato mixture will prevent curdling. In the making of creamed tomato soup.

Often when boiling eggs the white comes through the shell and spoils the taste of the egg through its appearance. This may be prevented if a teaspoonful of salt is put into the water before boiling.

Three Reasons Why POSTUM Instead of Coffee

A Food Drink

Postum made of choice whole wheat, roasted with a small portion of New Orleans molasses contains the nutritive elements of the grain, and is wholesome and nourishing. Coffee has no food value whatever.

Has Fine Flavour

Postum has a dark, seal brown color, which changes to rich golden brown when cream is added. It has a delightful aroma, and a rich, snappy flavour quite similar to that of Old Dutch Java.

Free from Drugs

Postum is absolutely free from any drug. Coffee contains caffeine, a poisonous drug—about 2½ grains to the cup. It often causes biliousness, headaches, heart agitation, nervousness, sleeplessness, and other ills. Postum, being pure and free from caffeine or any other drug, may be used freely by young and old.

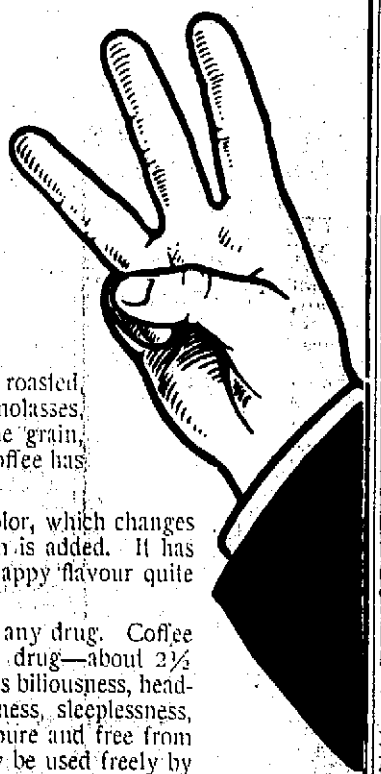

Postum comes in two forms:

Regular Postum must be well boiled to bring out the flavour and food value.

Instant Postum is a soluble powder. Made instantly by stirring a spoonful in a cup of hot water—with sugar and cream added.

If coffee don't agree, try POSTUM.

GEN. BIDDLE TO RETIRE FROM ACTIVE SERVICE

After thirty-eight years of service Major General William P. Biddle, commandant of the Marine Corps, has applied for voluntary retirement under the thirty years' service law. Major General Biddle has been commandant of the corps since Feb. 3, 1911. His would not have been retired for age until Dec. 17, 1917. The application for retirement has not been acted on by Mr. Daniels the Secretary of the Navy, and his successor has not been chosen.

Major General Biddle has had a total sea service of seventeen years and six months and twenty years shore duty. He was born in Philadelphia, Pa., Dec. 17, 1853, and entered the service as a second lieutenant in June, 1875. In 1890 he made a forced march at the head of a detachment of marines and sailors from Chemulpo, to Seoul, Korea to protect the American Legation. Major General Biddle commanded the marines on Admiral Dewey's flagship during the battle of Manila Bay, and in the Boxer uprising commanded the first regiment of marines during the march from Tientsin to Peking for the relief of the foreign legations. He commanded the marines in the battle of Yang-Tsun and in the fighting in the vicinity of Peking.

Colonel Lincoln Karmany, commanding the marine barracks here, will be strongly urged to succeed Major General Biddle.

Another candidate is Colonel Littleton W. T. Waller, commanding the marine barracks at Mare Island, who is the senior colonel of the corps. He is the only officer of his grade who has been advanced for conspicuous bravery during the Spanish-American war.

PUTS A PREMIUM ON SINGLE LIFE

Washington, Nov. 11.—Among the troublesome questions that came up today for consideration by the income tax experts of the Treasury Department was this one:

"Is the income tax going to put a premium on single blessedness?"

Advocates of the law contended it would put a premium on marriage but its interpreters now have found the paragraph affecting married persons not an easy one of comprehension after all. The law reads:

"There shall be deducted from the amount of the net income of each of said persons (meaning taxable persons) the sum of $500 plus $1000 additional if the person making the return be a married man with wife living with him, or plus the sum of $1000 additional if the person making the return be a married woman with a husband living with her, but in no event shall this additional exemption of $1000 be deducted by both a husband and a wife. Provided that only one deduction of $1000 shall be made from the aggregate income of both husband and wife when living together."

That looks simple enough, but the experts don't think it is. For instance they have to rule on whether two married persons living together, each of whom has an income of just $2000 must pay the tax. As individuals each would be exempt. Does marriage make them with an aggregate income of $4000 subject to the tax?

Another question that does not particularly concern the Treasury but

HERE'S COMFORT!

Reznor Gas Heaters are comfort makers. Sitting in the cozy glow of one of these little heating marvels is like taking a sun bath. It fairly wraps you round with golden light and saturates you with genial warmth.

REZNOR GAS HEATERS

"Quick heat for cold rooms" are an economical solution of the home heating problem at those particular seasons of the year when furnace heat is burdensome. And for rooms too far from the furnace to be easily warmed, they are fine. Don't suffer with the cold; a Reznor Gas Heater, lighted a few moments will give you the balmy air of June. Just a stroke of a match does it all—no fumes and no soot, and a bulky furnace—and when you are done, turn a key and the fire's out.

We'd like to have you see these wonderful heaters. They are the Original Copper Reflector Gas Heaters. We know you'd appreciate them. Come in and let us show you.

which will interest husbands and wives is who is to pay the tax in case a joint income is taxable. Is it to be proportioned according to the income of the individuals or the husband to pay it all?

One thing seems certain to the officials: The tax is going to prove an interesting index to marriages for money. Although many a mercenary man who took the step into matrimony may be allowed by his wealthy wife to pay the income tax, the chances are good that much of her income is from investments that require the payment of normal tax to be withheld at the source, and a comparison of incomes would not be difficult.

No one need worry, however, over such a prospect, because the returns are to be kept secret anyhow and only a few collectors and Treasury officials will know these details.

ENGLAND TO KEEP UP NAVAL STRENGTH

Washington, Nov. 11.—Winston Spencer Churchill, first lord of the Admiralty, speaking at Guildhall, London, dispensed the hope of those who looked forward to a possible cessation of naval construction by declaring that next year it would be his duty to present before Parliament estimates substantially greater than those of last year. Mr. Churchill emphasized the development of the submarine branch of the navy, and also the increase in its personnel, which next year would amount to 150,000 sailors and marines, a total which for the first time would exceed the largest number ever raised for the royal navy in the greatest crisis of the Napoleonic war. Speaking of the aeronautic possibilities, Mr. Churchill said the Government intends to develop this branch of the national defense. He maintained that the British hydroaeroplane, although still only in the experimental stage was superior to all others. "That is not enough," he continued. "We must have superiority in everything, not in aeroplanes alone. The enduring safety of the country will not be maintained by force of arms unless over the whole sphere of aerial development we make ourselves the first nation of the world. Other nations have started sooner than England. France's genius and Germany's indomitable perseverance have produced results which at present we cannot equal. You have to make up your minds to spend year after year more money and pay month after month the toll of precious lives. The keener eye, the surer hand and the undaunted heart must be offered, raked and sacrificed in order to attain, as we shall undoubtedly attain, that command and perfection in aerial warfare which will be an indispensable element in naval strength and naval security."

FIFTH SEASON OF BOSTON OPERA CO. OPENS NOV. 24TH.
The fifth season of the Boston Opera Company will be ushered in at the Boston Opera House on Monday night Nov. 24 the initial offering being "The Jewels of the Madonna." This Wolf-Ferrari opera achieved the greatest success among the many novelties put forward last year and even seven performances were not enough to satisfy the desire of Boston opera goers, for at its final hearing on the last night of the season a capacity audience remained in applaud the aria long after the last curtain had fallen.

The opening of the opera season is always the most important event of the social year and the ultra-fashionable audience which never fails to fill every box and orchestra chair and overflows into the balconies, demands that some of its own glory shall be reflected behind the footlights. With its spectacular scenes, its series of brilliant pictures of Neapolitan life, its melodious score, and a cast which enlists almost the entire strength of the Italian section of the organization, "The Jewels" meets every requirement, and therefore its choice for the premiere seems a happy one.

New interest will be lent the production this season by the appearance of a cast virtually new. Aside from Mme. Edvina, whose Mallela was one of her most pronounced triumphs, a new voice will be heard in almost every part. There will be Mme. D'Alvarez, a contralto whose voice is one of the most glorious of her time, as Carmela; Mme. Hellana, a young soprano who has sung everywhere in Europe, as Stella; Edouardo Ferrar, a tenor of the new principal Italian tenor of the company, as Gennaro; and Maria Ancona, one of the most famous of Italian contraltos, as Raffaele. For the first time, Roberto Moranzoni, the Italian conductor, will direct the performance.

For the remainder of the week the repertoire is sufficiently varied to appeal to all tastes, and the casts will with each other in brilliancy of ensemble. On Wednesday night "Faust" will be sung with Mme. Edvina on Marguerite for the first time in Boston. In the title part Lucien Muratore, the foremost French tenor of the day, will make his American operatic debut. The Mephisto will be Paolo Ludikar, a Russian bass, also new to Boston; and Mr. Ancona will appear again as Valentin. Siebel and Marthe will be sung by Mmes. Joska Swartz-Moraw and Elvira Leverant. Edouardo Tournon, a new conductor who comes from the Paris opera, will direct.

Friday night's performance will be notable in that it will bring Miss Garden in "Tosca," a role in which she fairly electrified her audiences last season. Associated with her will be Yanni Maronou as Scarpia, and Giovanni Martinelli, who as Cavaradossi will be the third famous tenor to sing the first week. Mr. Moranzoni will conduct.

Earlier than in any previous season, the German repertoire will be drawn upon as "Tristan and Isolde" is announced for Saturday afternoon. Mr. Ferrar-Fontana and his wife Marguerite Makenner will assume the principal roles. Mme. Makenner, hitherto known to Boston audiences only as a contralto, has a voice of such extraordinary range that she can undertake the parts written for either dramatic soprano or contralto, with equal facility. Mme. Homer is expected to supply the Brangäne and the Kurwenal also will come from the Metropolitan Opera House, probably in the person of Otto Gortz. Mr. Ludikar will sing King Marke, and Andre Caplet will conduct for the first time this season.

The Saturday evening series of popular performances will begin with a presentation of "Lucia di Lammermoor," in which Mme. Evelyn Sedgley and Vincenzo Tancig, a fourth new tenor, will be the featured artists. Ralph Lyford will conduct.

SYSTEM HAS BEEN USED HERE FOR TWO YEARS

Washington, Nov. 11.—Christmas gives this year will not be forced to lick their own stamps when they deposit their parcels for mailing, unless they wish to do so, for the Postoffice department announced today that its postmasters and their assistants would attend to that duty if requested. The innovation is put in force in the interests of better mail service during the holiday rush, and is expected to facilitate the movement of the vast crush of matter that will tax the resources of the department.

Orders were issued today to postmasters to affix postage when requested, on mail matter of the second, third and fourth class, the latter being parcel post matter. The stamps will be pre-cancelled, and the plan is expected to prevent the great waste of time experienced by postoffice patrons while waiting in line to buy stamps and mail their packages.

"Under such authorization," declares Postmaster General Burleson, "when a parcel is presented for mailing the clerk receiving it, after collecting the required postage, may indorse on the parcel the amount of the postage which later will be affixed by an employee of the postoffice."

The Postmaster General believes his plan will result in a great saving in time to the department as well as to the people.

This is a compliment to Postmaster Connor of this city, who for the past two years has had this system of handling the Christmas rush, and with great success.

STOPPING A RUNAWAY LOCOMOTIVE

On October 25, 1911, William A. A. Shurt in the November Wide World Magazine, while Agent and Operator D. A. Allen, station agent for the U. M. and S. Railway at Andly, Ark., was waiting for a north bound through freight to pass his station just before closing up the place for the night, the train dispatcher at Perryling, Louisiana, he began frantically calling his station. When Mr. Allen answered he was told that a runaway engine coming south was just a few minutes before getting away from these in charge and was now coming south wide open at a terrific speed, with no one on it.

On receiving this alarming information Operator Allen immediately dropped his signal board and at once ran to the north switch in his side track and threw it up to direct the runaway into the track where stood a string of loaded coal cars. If by chance the wild engine arrived first or he was unable to stop it in any other way he then induced two men he happened to find—Messrs. A. J. Johnson and Alf Winder to assist him in quickly throwing a hand car on the track. While they were doing this they heard the freight train about a mile and a half off, coming to what seemed certain destruction as the wild engine could also be heard in the distance, with the reports of the exhausts so close together that they made almost one continuous sound—exclusive proof that it was still working steam and coming at a high rate of speed.

With only the thought of saving lives in their minds, and with a full sense of their duty before them, these three men clambered on the car and began a veritable race against death to meet the wild engine, and if possible to stop it in some way before it crashed into the oncoming freight, the crew of which were entirely ignorant of the terrible menace so rapidly approaching them. The handcar was run down at the utmost speed that two three men could produce until the runaway engine came in sight through the darkness. There were no lights of any kind on it and in the hurry of getting away none of the men on the hand car had secured even a lantern, so that everything had to be done in the dark. Directly they sighted the engine looming vaguely through the gloom, the hand car was quickly thrown from the rails and had barely reached the ground when the runaway was upon them. Dashing alongside, Mr. Allen made a snatch at what he took in the darkness to be the grab iron on the back of the tender. It was then discovered however that the engine was backing up. What Allen took for a hand bolt proved to be a loose house lying on the woodwork surrounding the tank platform and

NAVY LEAGUE ASKS FOUR BATTLESHIPS
The board of directors of the Navy League of the United States meeting in the Union League Club last evening adopted a resolution urging upon President Wilson and the House of Representatives the importance of authorizing the immediate construction of four new battleships of the first class. General Horace Porter presided and nearly every member of the board took part in the discussion which culminated in the adoption of the following resolution:

"Resolved that the Navy League of the United States organized for the purpose of collecting and distributing accurate information about the navy and its needs, considers this an appropriate time to call the attention of all patriotic citizens to the fact that for several years past the building programme adopted by the General Board of the Navy after due consideration of the nation's requirements at home and abroad, has been curtailed until the United States has lost the place among the nations which its responsibilities demand it to take, in spite of the recommendations of successive Presidents and Secretaries of the navy, and therefore urges upon the President and the Congress the prime importance at this time of authorizing the construction of four new battleships of the first class."

Nuts when boiled, ready shelled, should be scalded, dried in the oven and put away in glass jars.

this hose gave way throwing Mr. Allen just outside the rails, the massive wheels barely missing him as the tender thundered on. Realizing that the lives of those on the freight train now drawing near were at stake and regarding the risk to himself Allen recovered his balance and caught the pilot as it passed him. Running like a monkey along the footboard of the swaying engine he reached the throttle, shut the steam off, reversed the engine, and started it back now ahead of the freight engine, the engineer of which had in the meantime noticed the hoard and had begun to slow down. But for the timely stopping of the wild engine however, nothing could have prevented a disastrous collision, which no doubt would have cost the engineer and men on the freight train their lives, if not those of the whole train crew, in addition to several thousand dollars worth of property.

Premier Scenic Temple Programme

For Wednesday and Thursday

THE EVIL EYE Two Reels-Lubin

A strong Mexican story of superstition and rural ignorance. Don Abina returns to his cottage with the sacred intention of erasing the superstition of his people. In his boyhood he had met a mountain lion and by the power of his eye had scared it.

Blind when he had been known as the man with the evil eye. A beautiful story of strong personality in a romantic setting. Featuring Mr. Romaine Fielding.

The White Feather. Vitaphone

Through incident by four he is depicted as cowardice. The picture is only fearless but he is the man who is the hero of the story.

Unmasked. Three Reels-Lubin

A three reel subject containing novel situations of unprecedented originality. A rapid succession of thrills and startling surprises. A complete plot of mystery and suspense. Acting of high order, perfect photography, and scenes of Alpine grandeur combine to make this a most wonderful feature.

Jimmy's Finish. Lubin

This effort to establish a compact caused an explosion which cracks the building. A very serious.

Betty Button and the Bad Man

Another delightful comedy on the same reel.

Miss Evelyn Emerson sings "White the Red, Red Rose Tree" and "You're Old Man, Mother's Day Blue Eyes."

Matinee 2.30, Evening 7.00, Saturday Evening 6.30.

SPECIAL FEATURE FOR THURSDAY ONLY: "JOE KNOWLES" The Primitive Man—Two Reels. Only Motion Pictures Authorized by MR. KNOWLES. Taken in the virgin forests of Maine, showing all the features of his daily life.

TELEGRAPHIC BRIEFS.

Haverhill, Mass., Nov. 11. Four thousand votes were cast at today's primary election which nominated four aldermen and four school committee men. These names will go on a ballot at the election on Dec. 5, when two aldermen and two members of the school committee will be elected for two years terms.

Providence, Nov. 11. The police of this Rhode Island city are searching for a man who, by means of forged prescriptions, has secured quantities of morphine and cocaine at different drug stores in Providence, Pawtucket and Woonsocket. The prescription blanks were stolen from the office of a Pawtucket physician.

Washington, Nov. 11. Investigation of a peanut trust among buyers operating in Virginia, was begun today by the department of justice. According to representations made to Attorney General McKeen by prominent residents of North Carolina, peanut buyers have forced prices down nearly 50 per cent. in a short time.

New York, Nov. 11. Some of the largest banks in the financial district are discussing a plan to discontinue the old custom of overreaching brokers' accounts. This agitation, it was said today, is the result of a recent decision by the United States supreme court in connection with the collapse of the Banking Valley coal pool in 1910, when the National City bank and the Mechanics and Metals National bank were involved to the extent of several hundred thousand dollars.

Cambridge, Mass., Nov. 11. "I am deaf and dumb" read a placard on the breast of a negro who was seeking alms from Harvard students today. He was placed under arrest as a beggar.

For six hours the man remained with out a voice; then he shouted "For Heaven's sake give me some food I'm starving."

New York, Nov. 11.—Nearer their goal by $100,000 was the result announced tonight at the close of the second day of the campaign of two weeks for $4,000,000 of the Y. M. and Y. M. C. A. members of the committee of 1000.

Metrose, Mass., Nov. 11.—The aldermen have voted to insert a referendum on the ballot at the city election next month on the question whether the board of health shall continue to charge 25 cents for hen coop licenses.

New York, Nov. 11.—Mrs. Annie Grinnell, a footlight star of 59 years ago is dead at the age of 84 at the poor house in Brooklyn. She was committed there as a vagrant ten days ago. She probably will be buried in Potter's field.

Greenwich, Conn., Nov. 11.—Mrs. Julius Cain, wife of the theatrical manager died suddenly of heart disease in the Greenwich hospital last night it was learned today. She went to the hospital to prepare for a minor operation. Mrs. Cain was 37 years of age.

Amney, Nov. 11.—Sarah Frazer, a Greek residing in Boston, was found slowly dying here today as the result of swallowing a large amount of pills in which a quantity of ferrel was known as Elohiv Drull was mixed.

Chicago, Nov. 11.—At the trial of the alleged clairvoyant swindlers, O. P. Berische and James Ryan today, Mrs. Mary Hagg of Napperville, Ill., testified that her acquaintance with Ryan cost her $12,500, all she had. She met him under the name of Professor Robert L. Milton, through an advertisement.

Pawtucket, R. I., Nov. 11.—Phonographs from several firms in this city went on strike today in an effort to compel the standstillers to join the union to which the strikers belong.

Lima, Peru, Nov. 11.—Robert Egan former American ambassador at Paris left here today for Panama on the voyage as lecturer under the auspices of the Carnegie endowment for international peace.

NO RADICAL CHANGES

Secretary Danicle Indorses Navy Academy Entrance Examinations

After thorough examination Secretary Danicle has concluded that it is inadvisable to make any radical changes in the entrance examinations at the naval academy. Many replies have been received from principals of high schools all over the country by the navy department in response to its request for opinions on the character of those examinations.

The opinions are divided but the larger proportion are to the effect that the examination is not severe to the extent, as has been claimed by some of the critics in congress, that worthy young men are deprived of the opportunity to enter the academy and are required to go to too much expense in the way of preparing for the examinations.

Academic authorities all along have maintained that it would be a mistake to lower the standard merely on account of the attacks that have been made on the system, especially as it is felt that the examinations are well founded and were directed against a class of questions largely relating to world history that were eliminated during the previous administrations.

FIRST SOCIAL OF THE SEASON

True Blue Class of Pearl Street
Meet With Mrs.
Plumer.

The True Blue Class of the Pearl Street Sunday school gave their first social of the season last evening at the home of their teacher, Mrs. A. C. Plumer, Haynes avenue. The class is an organized one and consists of nine members. The old historic Haynes mansion was the scene of a good time, one of the special features being a hunt through the attic, on the shouts of the young people denoted. There were twenty-six present and much sport was enjoyed. Games of various kinds were played and refreshments of ice cream and cake were served by Misses Beatrice and Bernice Frye, Florence Patterson and Grace Canney. The prizes for the peanut hunt were won by Frederick Dockham, Herbert Crowley, Nellie Holt, Paul Baden and Beatrice Frye; for the peanut race, Nellie Holt, Richard Jones and Philip Hagg; donkey contest, Nellie Patterson, Grace Canney and Una Badger. The company sang "God be with you till we meet again." They departed for home shortly afterward, hoping that the next meeting would soon follow.
